We also reserve the right to transfer any information we have about you to potential third party acquirer(s) in the event we sell or transfer all or a portion of the Fund's assets (including in the event of a reorganization, dissolution, liquidation or other corporate event) and/or target companies.

The disclosures of personal information referred to above may include transfers (notably via our service providers) to third countries, which are not regarded by the European Commission as ensuring an adequate level of data protection. Japan and the United Kingdom are currently considered by the European Commission as countries ensuring an adequate level of protection.

In case of transfers of personal information to entities located in non-EEA countries, such transfers will rely on appropriate safeguards as permitted or required under the GDPR. You can obtain from us more information in respect of transfers outside of the EEA upon request.

Record-Keeping of personal data

The period for which we will keep your personal information varies depending on the information and why we obtained it. Personal information will not be held for longer than it is needed, given the purposes for which it is held.

In any case, the Fund and its appointed service providers will retain all documentation provided by you in relation to your investment in the Fund for such period of time as may be required by Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements, and after the period of your investment has ended or the date on which you had your last transaction with us. In this respect, the Fund holds personal data for a subsequent period of ten (10) years where necessary to comply with applicable laws and regulations, and/or to establish, exercise or defend actual or potential legal claims.

Your data protection rights

Within the limits set out in the GDPR, you can benefit from:

- (a) a right to know what personal data we process and a right of access to such personal data;
- (b) the right to request any incomplete or inaccurate personal data be corrected;
- (c) the right to require us to delete your personal data and/or otherwise restrict our processing of your personal data in some circumstances;
- (d) the right to object to our processing of some or all of your personal data on grounds relating to your particular situation which are based on legitimate interests, at any time (and require such personal data to be deleted). If you object, we shall no longer process your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for such processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or where it is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal rights; and

(e) a "data portability" right to require us to transfer your personal data to you or to a new service provider in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format.

To exercise any of these aforementioned rights, please contact us as indicated in the How To Contact Us section of this Privacy Notice.

You also have the right, at any time, to lodge a complaint about our processing of your personal data with the relevant body regulating data protection in your country (for the European Union, details are available here).

Updates To Our Privacy Notice

This Privacy Notice may be updated periodically to reflect changes in our personal information practices. We will bring such changes to your attention by any proper mean of communication.
